

Angelo D'Amico

A CEO applying rigorous strategy and philosophy to real-world leadership, culture, and personal development.

Previously featured on:

ROGERS tv.

Spark

Clarington
Board of Trade

BizBlend

Professional grade mic, HD camera & specialized lighting in a dedicated space, to ensure quality.

Philosophy in Business

Business Leadership

Strategy Made Practical

Balancing Ambition & Ethics

Suggested Questions

- How can ideas from philosophy help business leaders achieve their goals?
- How can a leader with no philosophical background, begin to incorporate timeless philosophical ideas into their style?
- How can people navigate upward in business without compromising their authentic self or their values?
- How did you become the president of a business with $25M+ annual global sales by your 30s? What tips do you have for others?
- Where should leaders begin when building a strong business culture?
- How can a person be ambitious about their life and career, and be effective in creating opportunities, without compromising their values/ethics?

Ideal Audience

- Business owners & entrepreneurs
- Executive leaders & professionals
- People who want to be ambitious about life or their career, but want to do so without losing their authentic self or compromising their values.
- Anyone curious about the intersections of strategy, philosophy, leadership and personal growth

What to Expect

I understand the need to uphold your brand and your level of professionalism. With a background in philosophy, business and economics, I bring timeless ideas to modern leadership and personal development in a practical and approachable way. I can build upon familiar ideas, or introduce original concepts.

My Look

My Sound

My Writing

Email: info@angelodamicocanada.com

Web: www.angelodamicocanada.com